EVERY MAN FOR HIMSELF – This is a tournament for individuals. No teams permitted. Four players to a table.

ENTRY FEE - Tournament entry fee is $5.

HOW MANY DOMINOES - Each player will draw 7 dominoes to begin the game.

WHO STARTS THE GAME - The game will start by the player drawing the double 6 or highest double.

TEN TO GET IN – You must score ten points to in order for the score keeper to record your points. After the first ten, five points will be accepted.

NEW HAND- Once a game has started, the player that played the last domino from the previous hand gets to start the new hand with the domino of his choice. If you have the down, you get to keep it. The down does not rotate.

DOMINOER POINTS – The dominoer is able to count the sum of all other players dominoes.

POINTS TO WIN - It will take 150 points to win a game. The board count has to be a multiple of 5 to earn a score. At the end of a hand, the points are totaled and rounded to the nearest multiple of 5 to determine what score is earned (7 points = a score of 5 or 8 points = a score of 10).

HOW DO YOU ADVANCE - You must win your match, the best of 5 games, or be the next highest score in order to advance to the next round. The two lowest scores will be eliminated and we’ll see you next year.
BLOCKED HAND – If the game is blocked, the person with the least amount of dots on the dominoes wins the block. Double six will start the next hand.

BLOCKED HAND POINTS - The player with the lowest points receive his opponents points rounded to the nearest multiple of five. If the points are equal, no points are awarded to either player.

BOGUS PLAY - If a player draws a domino from the boneyard (the pack) but has a playable domino already in his hand, when discovered and proven, that player will lose the game.

BOGUS PLAY 2 - If a player plays for example a 5 on a 4, the opponent has the option BEFORE PLAYING to let the player know to correct his play and request the domino to be removed. There is no penalty for this play.

PLAYERS MUST NOT ARGUE AMONG THEMSELVES OR WITH TOURNAMENT OFFICIALS. PLAYERS MAY BE DISQUALIFIED FOR VIOLATING THIS RULE.

TOURNAMENT OFFICIALS DECISIONS ARE FINAL.
